Comments	The problem is researched, but this is not transferred to the problem statement. The statement present only rephrases the broad challenge statement made available. For a problem statement, you need to analyze your research insights and then you must ask yourselves what are the real pain point(s) behind this problem? And you need to take into account the ski enthusiasts perspectives. What are their pain points that the German Ski Association in its position could offer a solution for? The problem statement should focus on the target audience and present the real problem (= the pain point(s)). Furthermore, a problem statement should not include the solution or indications of it.
